INTRODUCTION

The leadership in a pluralistic society, like in Indonesia, has a very significant role in transforming social and political values to achieve state and nation prosperity. Social changes as the result of the social transformation stimulated by leaders, either group leaders, political party leaders, religion leaders, or state leaders, are very important to develop a modern bureaucratic system.

We would like to invite papers on any aspect of leadership and social transformation in a pluralistic society a maximum of 200 participants. Paper should be written in English.

Papers should be made in the format of Words, minimum of 10 pages and maximum of 15 pages with quarto paper size (excluding references) in 1.5 line spacing and 12 fonts of Times New Roman that include a title, an abstract of 300 words at the most, and institutional affiliation of the author.
